18. Plaintiff was then escorted to his new cell from the search area. Immediately after arriving in new cell (F-1-27 cell) plaintiff noticed several state issued white clothing missing as well as state towel. Plaintiff also noticed the cell was beyond filthy, caked up with garbage on the floor, feces splattered on the left + right side of cell walls, the smell of urine + feces in the cell, and a ripped mattress missing a whole cushion compartment.

19. Plaintiff then notified block officer C.O. Clarence Leduke that his cell was missing several state issued white clothing, one state towel, that the left + right side of cell walls were covered in feces and that the mattress was ripped with a missing cushion compartment. Plaintiff then asked C.O. Clarence Leduke for cleaning supplies, a new mattress, the replacement of the missing white clothing, and towels. C.O.
